

REPLIES TO WILSON'S CINCINNATI SPEECH

Republican Presidential Nominee Speaks at Rochester

Hughes Refutes Wilson Statement Regarding Exports With Statistics—Considers Anti-Dumping Provision of Revenue Bill as Far-Going—Nominee Cheered by Great Crowds.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Charles E. Hughes replied tonight to statements in President Wilson's Cincinnati speech concerning preparations to meet commercial competition after the war. Mr. Hughes told an audience here that the administration's views reminded him of its views on preparedness in December, 1914, which were afterward changed; that he considered the anti-dumping provision of the revenue bill, intended to meet the situation as "far-Going" and "worse than useless" to protect American workmen, and that even if the per cent of exports of commodities to supply armies was small, it required but very little to contract or destroy the prosperity of the country.

The nominee was cheered repeatedly. "It was said in December, 1914," Mr. Hughes asserted, "that America was ready; that any suggestion to the contrary was thoughtless. But in truth, America was far from ready. It is now said with reference to the commercial rivalry that America is ready. I think in truth that America is far from ready and that we shall not be ready until we have a clearer notion of what we may expect."

Cites Statistics of Exports.
Mr. Hughes cited statistics of exports in answer to the president's declaration that everything exported from the United States to supply armies does not total one per cent of the total of American commerce. After stating the increases in chemicals, brass, breadstuffs, iron and steel, cotton and other commodities, Mr. Hughes declared that exportations of explosives, including cartridges, had increased from $5,000,000 to $45,000,000 in one year, with an increase in total exports of $2,000,000,000. The nominee said he was "amazed at the suggestion" that it was such a small percentage that "it could hardly affect the great remaining percentage."

"Why, if you had the greatest distress in this country," Mr. Hughes said, "you would still have a tremendous volume of commerce and trade. It does not take much to contract the prosperity of this country, to destroy the prosperity of this country. The great percentage of our exchanges and of our commerce would continue, even if we were in very serious straits."

"When you infuse this normal demand to which I have referred you have given a stimulus which undoubtedly is felt thru the country and when you have a policy carried into effect, such as was involved in the Underwood bill, the contraction resulting from that policy, either, perhaps, a small percentage, was enough to send hundreds and thousands of workmen into the street."

"Let us not deceive ourselves. Let us take account of what is necessary for the protection of our industry and let us have it understood that we are doing it, not to give benefits to a few, but to provide a basis for prosperity for the many."

"It is said, after scoffing at the suggestion that is made with respect to competition with an energized Europe—after suggesting that America is able to take care of itself, having of course with the present governmental policies—after saying there is no such thing, then it is said, well, we have made provision with respect to it in our anti-dumping clause, in our revenue bill. And anybody that is going to threaten American industry and anybody who will in any way interfere with our conditions here may have to pay a few thousand dollars fine or go to jail."

Fourth Speech of Day.
Mr. Hughes' speech here tonight was the fourth one of the day. In his first address at Utica he devoted much of his time to his tariff views and Americanism. He reiterated his denial that a vote for him meant a vote for war. At Auburn the nominee assailed the administration for its alleged failure to observe the merit system in making appointments and declared for a "fair and equitable retirement system" for civil service employees.

Must Have New American Policy.
The nominee declared that to meet European competition after the war America has got to build and maintain a new American policy. He added that America also should have "a sound American foreign policy which will provide so far as intelligent action can provide a backing for American enterprise."

Denounces Statement.
In his Auburn speech Mr. Hughes denounced the statement that a vote for him meant a vote for war as "false, unworthy, preposterous and insidious."

He again expressed the conviction that he would be elected—and the audience cheered—adding that if he were he would have "competent heads" for the war and navy departments.

The administration's alleged lack of preparedness when the national guard was mobilized was assailed by Mr. Hughes in his speech at Geneva, the third of the day.

"The defects in the system which have revealed, were defects which a reasonable oversight could easily have prevented," he said. "There were defects in many directions, as you all know with respect to equipment, rifles, uniforms, horses. We had artillerymen without guns and cavalrymen without horses. We had

FURTHER TESTIMONY IN COPELAND TRIAL

Witness Tells of Conversation He Had with Geo. Ryan

Heard Shots in Hotel and Saw Ryan Come Down Stairs with Blood on His Hands—Last Witness of the Day Asserts Black's Gun Had Never Been Fired.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 27.—Over the defense's objections, the state today introduced into the John Copeland case a conversation which I. A. Morgan of Marshall said he had with George Ryan shortly after the killing of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, at Marshall, Feb. 23, 1915.

Morgan, a first lieutenant in the third Texas infantry now stationed at Corpus Christi, but at the time employed in the Marshall post office, was the second witness called by the state in rebuttal.

He said he was standing near the north steps of the court house in the late afternoon of Feb. 23rd when he heard shots at the hotel.

He ran to the scene and entered the lobby.

While there he said he saw Ryan whose trial in connection with the killing of Black is set for next week, come down to the lobby from upstairs. There was blood on Ryan's hand, Morgan testified.

The conversation according to the witness' testimony was:

Morgan: George are you hurt?
Ryan: No I'm not hurt.

Morgan: What in the world is the matter?
Ryan: Those  up there have shot Rogers' and Copeland.

Morgan: Who?
Ryan: Those men who lectured last night in the court house.

Morgan: What was the trouble?
Ryan: We went up there to make or have them leave town.

The Rev. J. M. Smith, a Methodist minister, testified he attended Black's lecture on the night of Feb. 23, 1915, and that while an attack was delivered on Roman Catholicism, no names were mentioned and nothing was said in reference to any particular person.

The last witness of the day was John B. Henderson, chief deputy sheriff of Harrison county who when he heard shooting ran from the court house to the hotel lobby and thence to the room in which lay Black and Rogers.

Black's gun never had been shot he said.

The cable added that the Chicago was expected to reach Fayal today. This report was confirmed by a cable message from Lloyds, London to the Maritime Exchange here.

Officials of the French line said they had received no word direct of the Chicago. Absence of direct word, French line officials here said, lead them to believe the fire is not serious. CAUGHT IN THE GRIP OF TWO INVADING FORCES

Roumania Struggles Desperately To Ward Off Attacks

Field Marshal Von Mackensen and General Von Falkenhayn Continue Their Advances—French Check German Attack In Verdun Region.

Roumania, caught in the grip of two invading forces of the central powers, still is struggling desperately to ward off the incessant attacks of Field Marshal Von Mackensen and General Von Falkenhayn.

Advancing northward in Dobruja Von Mackensen's troops have reached a line running from Hirsova, on the Danube, to Sasapek, on the Black Sea coast, from forty to sixty miles from where they crossed the Constanza-Tchernavoda railway line. The capture of Hirsova would give the Teutonic allies the advantage of having little marshy ground to traverse should they attempt to make a crossing of the river here into Old Roumania, as the low lying ground virtually disappears for some distance around Hirsova.

General Von Falkenhayn continues to make progress in the direction of Capuleni, south of Predeal, on the Transylvania front, and Bucharest admits a retirement of the Roumanian forces in the Jiu valley, which is situated in the Vulcan Pass region. The Russo-Houmanian forces, to the north, have repulsed Austro-German attacks, while in the Uzul valley the Roumanians continue to advance and in the region of Okna have occupied a height and a village. Inclement weather is hampering the operations on the Somme and Macedonian fronts and only bombardments have taken place in these regions.

Another attempt by the Germans at an attack west of the village of Douaumont in the Verdun region was checked by the French curtain of fire. The Germans are still heavily bombarding all the newly won positions of the French in this region. On the eastern front in Russia there has been little fighting except in the region of the Shara river, northwest of Pinsk. Near Goldovitch, a German attack forced the Russian to retire to the eastern bank of the Shara.

In an engagement in the English channel between British and German boat destroyers, two German destroyers were sunk, according to London, while the British lost a ramship. In addition a British torpedo boat destroyer is missing and another was run aground after it had been disabled by a torpedo.

WOMEN RECEIVE STORMY RECEPTION

Hughes Campaigners Have Lively Time in Kansas City—Speak at a Mass Meeting.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—Women campaigners of the Hughes special train met a stormy reception in Kansas City late today when their body guard of several hundred men clashed with would be hecklers. In the resulting mixup banners were torn from cars and several men were struck.

The women kept up a constant cheering but none of them was handled roughly.

When the Hughes special arrived, crowds of Republican men attempted to line a path to waiting motor cars for the women campaigners and hold back dozens of motor cars of women, whose variously inscribed banners and pictures of President Wilson proclaimed them Democrats.

The driver of one of the Democratic cars, a man attempted to break thru the protecting cordon and was attacked by a man who leaped on the running board and was shaken off only when the car picked up speed. The driver of another car carrying Wilson banners was struck when he ordered a man not to tear a Wilson picture.

A third car was protected as it started to leave the Union Station by a plainclothes policeman who stood on the running board with a drawn revolver.

Several of the motor cars of both parties presented a sorry spectacle later in the downtown section.

The women campaigners went for a motor ride thru the parks late this afternoon; they were entertained at dinner at a downtown hotel and tonight spoke at a mass meeting.

WATCH MIGRATION OF SOUTHERN NEGRES

Officers Hope to Check Possible Election Frauds

Labor Authorities Would Prevent Federal Employment Service from Furthering Migration Schemes—High Wages Attracting Labor in North May Result in Serious Shortage of Labor in South.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Both the department of justice and the department of labor are watching closely the migration of southern negroes to northern industrial centers. The legal officers hope to check possible election frauds, while the labor authorities are interested primarily in preventing their federal employment service from being used to further migration schemes.

Attorney General Gregory, in addition to general instructions recently given to federal district attorneys in advance of the elections, has ordered a special inquiry into complaints that negroes are being sent in considerable numbers to doubtful states under promise of work at high wages.

Complaints Reach Department.
District Attorney Miller at Louisville has been ordered to report the names, towns and destinations of all negroes or any possible voters going from Kentucky, Alabama, or other parts of the south, passing thru Louisville in suspicious numbers.

Other district attorneys in the south and in midwest states are understood to have similar instructions. The attorney general conferred today with his assistants on the subject of election frauds, generally. So far complaints have reached the department of alleged frauds or contemplated frauds affecting candidates for federal offices in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and Missouri. The department of labor let it become known that it had issued orders designed to prevent the use of the federal employment service in the migration of large numbers of negroes from the southern states. Assistant Secretary Post said the department had no intention of becoming a party to schemes which might be devised for the purpose of lowering the wages of labor or breaking strikes.

Should Raise Wages in South.
Much information regarding the migration has been collected. In the south the complaint is being made that the negroes are being taken to the north with promises of much bigger wages and that if continued a serious shortage of labor may result. The labor department was represented today as feeling that any laborer is justified in going to that place where the wages are best and that the place he leaves can remedy the situation by raising the scale.

The American Federation of Labor, according to Secretary Frank Morrison, also is watching the movement of negroes with the idea "that if it is not a scheme to get votes it is for the purpose of securing cheaper labor than is available at present."

BAKER FAILS TO SOLVE MYSTERY

Does Not Reveal Foundation for Border Attack Statement

Continues Political Campaign Without Revealing Sources or Exact Nature of Information Regarding Story—Army Officials Believe the United States Forces in Mexico Secure Against Any Attack.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary Baker left for Wilmington, Ohio, tonight to continue his campaign speaking without revealing either the sources or the exact nature of the information which impelled the war department yesterday to issue a statement, saying it had knowledge that an attack on the border or on American troops in Mexico was being planned by enemies of the administration policy toward Mexico. It was learned, however, that the suspicion was aroused here some days ago and that reports of an alleged raid conspiracy appearing in certain American newspapers were transmitted to the border for investigation. Reports reaching Washington yesterday less than an hour before Mr. Baker left for West Virginia to deliver a campaign address led the war secretary to confer with Secretary Lansing at the state department and issue the statement.

Does Not Refer to Americans.
Suggestions that the statement was worded as to virtually charge American political opponents of the administration of conspiring with the bandits caused both Secretary Baker and Secretary Lansing to reiterate today the latter's statement of last night that there was no intention to do such a thing and that Mexicans now in the United States were responsible for the plot wishing to embroil the United States and Mexico to the end that the defacto government might be overthrown. In declining to make public the nature of the information received it was said at both the state and war departments that to do so would close a valuable channel thru which watch could be kept on Mexican affairs. The arrest of some individual of complicity in the plot, it was stated authoritatively probably would be the public's next information on the subject. High army officials have no doubt of the complete security of American forces in Mexico against any attack. General Pershing has nearly 12,000 men with him, it is understood, so disposed that any assailant would be easily handled.

Reinforcements Arrive.
The state department received word today that the situation at Chihuahua City had been relieved by the arrival of Carranza troops from the south to augment General Trevino's garrison.

Reports from Mexico City say quiet prevailed there, and the departure of General Carranza for Queretaro has not been officially reported as yet, although press dispatches have stated he left several days ago.

A Case In Point.

Read in another column a letter from Waverly presenting the case of a mother of a large family who is suffering from tuberculosis. There is absolutely no place in this county where such a case can be cared for. The hospitals cannot receive tuberculosis patients. The county has made no provision for them.

When a member of a well to do family is afflicted with this malady the patient can be sent away to a tuberculosis hospital in some other locality or a tent can be erected at home and the attendance of a trained nurse secured. But with a family in less fortunate circumstances the condition is different. The patient must stay in the home without proper care, growing constantly worse and infecting others with the disease.

In the name of humanity, and if not for that reason, merely to stop economic loss, the voters of this county—men and women—should cast their ballots November 7 in favor of the collection of a special tax to maintain a tuberculosis sanitarium in this county.

Roger Sullivan, they say, has for several years been the controlling factor in the Chicago Herald. If this be true there is nothing so very surprising after all that the Herald is out with a two column editorial supporting President Wilson for reelection.

Senator James Wadsworth of New York has just completed a speaking tour and has returned to Republican national headquarters with encouraging information. Based on conditions he found in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and other states Senator Wadsworth has no hesitation in predicting a veritable landslide for Hughes November 7.

The proposal to erect a memorial in honor of Morgan county soldiers should receive the endorsement of both men and women at the polls on the election November 7. The law has with good intent provided this means for honoring the memory of the men who fifty years ago sacrificed so much for their country. A memorial is to be erected from a special tax fund and be of such form that it will pay due honor to the men who served the union, providing a needed lesson in patriotism for the youth of the present day and can also be in such form that the memorial will constitute a building useful for public purposes.

Why Hughes Will Be Elected.

Mr. Hughes will owe his election on the 7th of next November to his reputation before the people for reliability, and from the day Mr. Hughes enters the White House the world will know that the president of the United States can once more be trusted to say only what he means and to mean all that he says. Such a man will not plunge the nation into an unnecessary or an unjust war, for, as Mr. Hughes said last night, what he has said in every

Along the country roads I go, still striving to go faster, and every other mile or so I spring some small disaster. To beat all records, west and east, it is for that I hanker! And here and there I kill a priest, and here and there a banker. I'm worse than lightning's lurid breath; I am the scourge titan; I'm battle, murder, sudden death; my other name in panic. With Azrael I deftly work, to fill the churchyard acre; and here and there I slay a clerk, and here and there a baker. I am a threat to all who drive their motor wagons sanely; by care they try to keep alive, and free from wounds, but vainly. I whiz around a corner sharp, and grind such people under; and while my victims draw a harp, I scorch along like thunder. To all who in this valley jog, I bring the last trump closer; and here I spoil a pedagogue, and there I bag a grocer.

THIS DATE IN ILLINOIS HISTORY

October 28, 1754—At a great assembly, the Choctaw Indians promised to be friends with all the French in the Mississippi Valley. This promise was kept quite faithfully by the Choctaw.

other state in which he has spoken. "The path of peace is the path of self-respect which maintains the dignity of our citizenship and cements the friendship of all nations." It is that path from which we have wandered under the leadership of President Wilson, with the resultant loss of our self-respect, the dignity of our citizenship and the friendship of all nations.

Wheat Prices.

Everything indicates now that the promise made several weeks ago by grain men will be realized and that wheat is to reach the $2 mark. Already a figure in excess of $1.86 has been reached and is the highest price since the Civil War. The European demand, short crop in Argentina and a short crop in the United States and Canada are contributing factors toward this high price, but the people have not yet been convinced that some man or group of men has not cornered the market and thus become directly responsible for the sensational advance. At any rate, the men who are making big money on wheat are not the farmers, for the great bulk of them sold their grain at harvest time or at least during the succeeding weeks. When the price begins to tumble from the $2 mark—as it certainly will—fortunes will be smashed and wiped out just as rapidly as they have been made in recent weeks.

Sometimes somebody somehow will devise a way to put as top to gambling in the food supplies of the people.

An Example From Argentina

Perhaps reports from Argentina showing that the crops are short there are not manufactured for the purpose of boosting the grain markets. At any rate Dr. Irigoyen, president of the country, has made arrangements to shelter destitute in Buenos Aires in public buildings. The new president, who has been classed as a radical, went into office without pledges or promises, and very naturally the people who consider this early official act as an insight to his character, believe a leader has been chosen who will in deed place the interests of the people above all other considerations.

Dr. Irigoyen will also provide food for the destitute from his own funds and proposes to turn back in to the public treasury the hundred thousand dollars salary which the law allows him. Social conditions in Argentina may not be on a par with those in our own country but certainly this political leader is setting a standard which some of our own "great" men might well follow with earnestness and enthusiasm.

THESE MEN SHOULD BE ELECTED

When Tuesday, November 7, arrives the voters of Morgan county will have the opportunity for supporting on the Republican ticket men who are in every way qualified for the respective offices which they seek. Fred B. Henderson is a Morgan county product and while he has devoted a number of years to farming he has also engaged in mercantile business and has had such experience that he is thoroughly familiar with county and court affairs.

Carl E. Robinson, who is seeking the office of state's attorney, if elected will bring to the office not only ability but a high sense of duty. Thru his own earnest efforts he was able to secure a college and law education and the stable characteristics which have thus far made for his success would certainly dominate him as state's attorney and make him, indeed, a guardian of the law. Charles Rose, candidate for coronor, has been a resident of Jacksonville for nearly twenty-five years, as he came here in 1892. He is a business man who has the esteem of his fellow citizens. He has never held public office but his training and manner of life have been such that there is reason for the expectation that he would make a conscientious county official.

Charles Magill is familiar with county affairs in various ways, chiefly from the fact that he has served so long as a road commissioner in the district in which he lives. Mr. Magill has indicated that if chosen November 7 he will make the interests of the county, and thus the people, paramount and there are good reasons for the belief that he would keep that promise inviolate. If selected by the voters November 7.

Earl M. Henderson is entirely competent to fill the office of coronor, and the Republican party feels especially fortunate in presenting such a list of candidates to the voters of Morgan county and in calling attention to their fitness and availability. It has not often happened in the history of the county that such a wholly good list of candidates has been presented.

CHANGE IN PRICE.
Beginning November 1, the price of meals at this cafe will be 35c instead of 25c. This change is made necessary by the increased cost of all food supplies. The merchant's lunch will be continued as heretofore. . . . James H. Hall.

SENATOR LEWIS COMING
Democrats are looking forward with interest to the visit of Senator James Hamilton Lewis to Jacksonville tonight. Needless to say the senator will turn loose an address decorated with all that is picturesque in language and illustration.

DECATUR MINISTER PICKS BRIDE FOR FRIEND

As Result Came Marriage of Miss Marguerite Potter to Dr. Boone of Chandlerville.

The Decatur Review has a story about how Rev. A. P. Cobb of that city has successfully operated a private matrimonial agency at least to the extent of finding a wife for Dr. Boone, a well known physician of Chandlerville. The Review's story is as follows:

"Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"

That famous question which was asked of John Alden by Priscilla many years ago, has just been reproduced in Decatur. In this case, however, there was no Miles Standish to mourn the loss of a pretty bride.

It isn't often that one man depends upon another to pick out a bride for him, but that is what happened in the case of Dr. Howard Boone of Chandlerville, Ill. Dr. Boone and Miss Marguerite Potter of Decatur were married Thursday morning in this city by Rev. A. P. Cobb. An account of the marriage is published on the society page of this issue.

Picked the Bride.

Rev. Mr. Cobb was the man who picked out the bride, and Dr. Cobb tells the story of the unusual romance as follows:

"I have known Dr. Boone for a great many years. He is one of the leading physicians and surgeons of the west part of the state and has a large practice in the vicinity of Chandlerville and Beardstown. He is forty two years old and his first wife died a few years ago, leaving her husband and a son.

Owens 1,500 Acres.

"Dr. Boone is owner of 1,500 acres of fine, black land, a $10,000 home at Chandlerville and has a big medical practice. He attended the Union State Sunday school convention in Springfield in August and there I met him.

"Mr. Cobb," he said to me, 'I'm lonesome. I want you to find me a wife.'

"That's a pretty big undertaking, doctor," I replied.

"Well, I'll rely on your good judgment," said he.

"Do you want a girl with a dowry?" I asked him.

"No I have plenty for both of us. I want some one who will make me a good home."

Selected Miss Potter.

"When I returned home from Springfield, I set my wits to working. Then I thought of Miss Potter. She is a mighty fine girl and a graduate of the James Millikin university.

"I put the matter up to her. She was agreeable and I arranged for a correspondence between her and Dr. Boone. After that it was a simple matter. The wedding took place today and the two are very much in love."

OBITUARY SKETCH OF MRS. ELIZABETH DRAPER

Once more the Death Angel has visited our community and wrestled from loving hands, our dear, beloved mother and grandmother.

All that loving hands could do, was done to relieve her suffering but God's will, not ours, be and at 7:20 o'clock Saturday evening, Oct. 21, 1916, she passed into eternal rest, where there is no more suffering or sorrows, but where all is peace and love.

Elizabeth Draper was born in Macoupin county, Ill., Jan. 19th, 1823. Died Oct. 21st, age 87 years, 3 months and 2 days. She was united in marriage to Joseph Draper at Carlinville, Ill., in 1847.

All thru her illness, extending over a period of fifteen months, she was ever patient and loving, always thinking of those about her, never complaining of her own great sufferings.

Altho realizing that the hand of death was drawing near, she was never known to murmur but seemed patiently to welcome the hour when the Master would call her to that bright home and reunite her with those loved ones who has passed on before. "A house not made by hands," but to a land where there are no sickness or parting.

While she is sadly missed and the home dark and lonely without her, yet if one word uttered would bring her back to where she has lain, for the past fifteen months, which one of us would utter that word? For we know that she does not suffer now and it is consolation to know that the all on this earth should fall us, we have a bright hope in heaven.

The husband, Joseph Draper, one son, Henry Draper, and one daughter, Mrs. James McGlothlin having preceded her in death, the following children survive: Finis Draper of Canton, Fred Draper of Carlinville, William Draper and Abraham Draper of Jacksonville, Mrs. Mary Prewitt and Mrs. Emma Vance of Jacksonville and Mrs. Elizabeth Fisk of Carlinville.

The funeral was held at the family residence at 619 Myrtle street, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23 at 2:30. The services were in charge of the Rev. Geo. E. Nicholson. Music was furnished by Mrs. Hart and Miss Breitweiser, who sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Shall We Gather At the River?"

The many beautiful flowers were in charge of Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Hardin. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery. The bearers were Owen Draper, William Prewitt, Albert Prewitt, and John McGlothlin, all being grandsons of the deceased. She is sleeping, sweetly sleeping.

In her grave beneath the sod, Oh! we could not bear to wake her.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT DISCUSSED BY G. A. R. MEN

Hope that Large Number Will Vote in Favor of Proposition—Men and Women Can Cast Ballots.

At the meeting of Matt Starr post G. A. R. last evening the matter of the soldiers' monument was brought up and an earnest desire was expressed that the measure might carry by a large majority. Both men and women may vote on the proposition and the only, or greatest fear is that the measure may fail for lack of attention.

To overcome that the special committee, Comrades C. Higgs Taylor and W. H. Jordan, are to have reminding cards to distribute all over the county calling the attention of the voters to the subject. The question of the monument and the tuberculosis hospital will be placed on a separate ballot and each person going into the booth will have two ballots to mark. Both should be studied most carefully so that the voters will quickly mark their ballots and leave the booths as there is likely to be a bit of overcrowding at the polls if a full vote is cast and people are at a slow in marking their ballots.

Surely no one would vote against the monument proposition but lack of interest and failure properly to mark ballots may cause the proposition to fail.

There, surely can be no argument against the monument tho there may be some variance of opinions regarding the form of the structure. Some persons desire a building but the greater number seen by the Journal staff prefer a monument in the center of central park. Both the Women's Relief Corps and Daughters of the Revolution will assist in this laudable enterprise and it should carry by a large and decisive majority.

TWIN BEDS HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1ST

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's brilliant comedy, "Twin Beds," aptly described as "Mirth's Marathon Winner," will come to the Grand Opera House Wednesday, Nov. 1st, under the direction of A. S. Stern and Company, direct from a solid year's run in New York, where it played to the largest average audiences ever assembled in a metropolitan playhouse. It has also to its credit six months in Australia and has already reached its second year in London. Laughter is said to never leave off in "Twin Beds," it is a riot almost all the time, a tornado of harum-scarum fun. "Twin Beds" is just one uproarious joke. It concerns itself with the harrowing experience of three couples who live in a large and fashionable apartment house and thru the first friendliness of one of their number, suddenly find that they are they may, they cannot escape each other. In the scramble for peace and privacy, both of which recede steadily as the plot unfolds, the characters are intensely amusing. An ideally balanced cast has been provided for "Twin Beds" by Stern and Company.

MORTON SCHOOL IS IN GOOD CONDITION

Miss Kepler, the Teacher, Is Having Successful Year—List of Pupils.

One of the successful seats of learning in the county is the Morton school three miles east of the city near the Wabash rail road track.

This school is under the watchful care of the teacher, Miss Irma F. Kepler with Messrs. James E. Rawlings, Patrick Dowling and Logan Black directors. The school is well attended and the list of pupils is among the larger ones of the county.

The school was recently visited by a Journal reporter who was much pleased with the behavior of the pupils and the general attitude of all.

All young people like to hear of the lands across the sea and these were no exception and the visit was a source of pleasure to the visitor anyway and he hopes it was the same to the pupils. They paid good attention to the talk and showed much interest in what was said to them.

The school is supplied with a modern ventilating heater, a well cemented basement and coal bin, and other conveniences. There is a small library and there are some other appliances. From the west wall the picture of the father of his country looks placidly down on the occupants of the room and is no doubt a talisman and safeguard to the place.

One thing connected with this place is a burning, outrageous shame and that is the vandalism of tramps or predatory boys or both. Panels have been broken from two expensive doors and only recently the lights in the basement windows were broken. The building is so near the city and beside the railroad track so that it is an easy prey to mischief makers and of course the directors can't afford to keep a guard there all the time. It is a pity that an example can't be made of some evildoer in this respect.

The lot is of good size and in it are some venerable black locust trees with room for plenty of good maples and elms if the evil visitors would let them grow.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter, clogged up in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

FUNERALS

Mallory

Funeral services for Henry Clay Mallory were held from Mt. Emory Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the pastor the Rev. E. L. Scruggs. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends which served to show the high esteem in which the deceased was held in this community. There were a number present from other cities.

Dr. Scruggs delivered a beautiful eulogy to the memory of Mr. Mallory. He dwelt particularly upon his integrity, his faithfulness as a citizen and as a member of the church. The speaker told of the deceased having come here as a boy and making a home for his parents and brothers and sisters and then bringing them here from Paris, Mo. He also told of his service to the church in many capacities when he was ever faithful to his trust. Such men, said the Rev. Mr. Scruggs, "are a great benefit to any community and this community is better for his having lived in it."

There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings and these were cared for by Mrs. Katie Parker, Mrs. Cora Duncan, Mrs. Frances Johnson and Mrs. Pearl Berry. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery the bearers being, William House, David Short, Herbert Hyatt, William Mitchell, Austin Carter and Harry Brown.

LOHENGRIN HEARD BY MUSIC LOVERS

Large Audience Greeted English Opera Company at the Grand Friday Night.

Wagner's Lohengrin was presented in Jacksonville at the Grand Opera House probably for the first time Friday evening. This city has had many noted singers and many noted opera companies, but none ever essayed Wagner's score before.

Perhaps there is a reason for this, or for that matter several reasons. One is that it is a difficult score to undertake except by artists of the first class. Second it is not as tuneful as some of the other well known operas such as Il Trovatore and the Bohemian Girl.

It could easily be observed last night that the average person in the audience while appreciating the excellent work of the principals and chorus was not receptive to the beauties of the score. Yet even tho the audience was rather cold it awakened to the efforts of the singers at the close of the second act and expressed vigorous appreciation.

Perhaps one of the most pleasing features of the performance was the work of the orchestra under the direction of Basil Horsfall. Mr. Horsfall knew his orchestra and his singers and they responded splendidly to his baton. The chorus work was especially good and the members sang as tho they really enjoyed their work.

Haigh Jackson who took the part of Lohengrin was easily the leading singer of the company. He has a powerful tenor voice of exceptional range and of beautiful timbre. His style of singing found a happy response in the audience. For tone coloring and genuine musical understanding his place would be hard to fill.

Madame D'Alamada as Elsa of Brabant was the principal prima donna. Added to her wonderful gift as a thoro musician she had a very strong personality. Those who had the privilege of listening to her wonderful singing last night felt her dramatic power in her sympathetic tones. She undoubtedly possesses the talent not only for singing the lighter roles but also the heavier work.

Charles Gerol has a big voice which he uses to splendid advantage and he added no little merit to the personnel of the opera. Arthur Deane who took the part of the Count of Brabant has combined in his voice not only dramatic material but the certain indefinable quality that appeals to the average audience. Madame Anita Sutherland who was the character of Ortrud wife of the count of Brabant, has a voice that is well adapted for the presentation of Lohengrin. The entire company is one of the strongest that has been heard in Jacksonville for a number of years, and Jacksonville music lovers would deeply appreciate hearing their voices in leading parts in other performances in which they have scored equal success.

The costuming was correct in detail and the stage setting were beautiful and rounded out a splendid performance.

The place of the next meeting will be decided later.

The principal speaker of the day was Mrs. C. A. Tyler of Evanston, who gave a helpful address at the afternoon session, taking as her theme the letters W. F. M. Other speakers from away were Mrs. P. M. Young of Pawnee, Presbyterian home president; Mrs. C. A. Faught of Decatur, foreign mission president, and Mrs. W. A. Aherns of Decatur, corresponding secretary for the Presbyterian society.

WOODMEN GATHER FOR JOINT MEETING FRIDAY

Large Audience Hears State Officer's Address at M. W. A. Hall—Membership Campaign Nets 150.

One hundred and fifty members have been added to date as a result of the campaign for membership conducted by Morgan County Woodmen and it is expected that more than two hundred will participate in the big adoption ceremony to be held in the opera house the middle of November. Further plans for the campaign were discussed Friday night at a joint open meeting of Unity Grove Camp No. 132 and Jacksonville Camp No. 912, when almost two hundred members of the order gathered in the hall for a booster meeting and program.

Mr. Burt of Rock Island, one of the head officers, was present and gave an instructive address on the M. W. A. home at Woodman, Colo. The lecture was illustrated with slides and in graphic manner showed the immense work for good done by this sanatorium for treatment of tuberculosis.

Dr. T. O. Hardesty told of the movement in this county for a tuberculosis sanatorium. J. Marshall Miller gave a brief address and C. H. Story told of a visit he had paid the Woodman home. Joseph Gomes of camp No. 912 was in the chair.

After the program a smoker was enjoyed and refreshments were served. On the membership committee for Camp No. 132 are Louis Connors, Judge W. E. Thomson and Louis Piepenbring. In Camp No. 912 the committee is Joseph Gomes, C. E. Knollenberg and J. Earl Vasconcellos.

REPLIES TO WILSON'S CINCINNATTI SPEECH

a very serious lack of equipment. We were troubled even in the transportation facilities which were provided."

America's present prosperity was characterized as "an unnatural prosperity, a false prosperity."

"Oh, it is a dream," he said. "It is an intoxication due to abnormal conditions. You will have a very rude awakening."

With a snap of the fingers to emphasize his point, the nominee declared that at the close of the war, the European demand for American products would diminish "and you will find the demand for labor which now exists due to this condition ended."

Hits Democratic Tariff Policy.
Mr. Hughes assailed the Democratic policy of a tariff for revenue only and the claim that a protective tariff was unconstitutional.

"Nothing of that kind ever had the support of the electorate," he declared, "and if that is the sort of doctrine what is to be maintained in the twentieth century—good-bye, prosperity, to the United States."

At another point in his speech he asked how conditions after the war were to be met.

"They are not to be met by scoffing," he replied. "They are not to be met by talking about an alert and intelligent America. They are not to be met by talking to the American people about their ability. The entire country would be affected by post-bellum conditions, he said, and there will be no isle of safety for any one."

Capital and labor, Mr. Hughes said, should co-operate.
"We can shipwreck the ship of state very easily," he said. "It won't sail straight with a mutinous crew. We have got to all work together in this country, or we will come to grief."

At Geneva, as the train was pulling out, an elderly man, carrying a musket, tried to clamber aboard the rear platform of Mr. Hughes' private car. He was uncertain of his movements, but finally gained a foothold on the step. The detectives guarding Mr. Hughes shouted to him to get off, and when he disregarded the warning, took the musket from him and with a blow knocked him from his position. Afterwards it was believed the old man had intended to present the weapon to the nominee.

HOME TEAM WON "GRID" CONTEST FROM WAVERLY

Final Score 29 To 2 In Favor of Jacksonville Players.

Jacksonville defeated Waverly for the second time this season at Waverly by a score of 29 to 2. Jacksonville outplayed Waverly at all stages. When the game started Jacksonville marched down the field and made a touchdown and kicked a goal in a little more than one minute of play. They made another touchdown and kicked goal before six minutes time had passed.

Then the team opened up and tried forward passes and trick plays. This resulted in two more touchdowns and a safety before the final whistle. Waverly's score was made on a blocked punt. Waverly claimed a touchdown and Jacksonville claimed a touchback. It was finally compromised by calling it a safety, giving Waverly two points. The touchdowns were made by Reeve, Hull and Howard Reynolds who put the ball over twice.

LETTER SHOWS FLIGHT OF SICK WOMAN

Suffers From Tuberculosis and Endangers Family of Children—No Place to Go For Care.

If anyone doubts the need there is for a tuberculosis sanatorium in this county there should come a change of view point in reading the following letter received by a Jacksonville physician:

Waverly, Ill., Oct. 24, 1916.

My dear doctor:

Last evening I was asked by several ladies to write to you for information.

We have here a mother with tuberculosis that has reached her throat. She suffers very much from her throat and it discharges. She is able to swallow so little that at times she cries with hunger. The family is very poor and the husband and oldest son drink. The father controls the wages of the 14 year old son. The second son does all he can to keep the family. A dear 11 year old girl does the work and takes care of her mother. There are two younger children. The mother is now in delicate condition.

"The woman is a good, timid, patient mother. She would not dare to sleep in a tent. We furnish her an egg a day. The family lives just outside the corporation limits. The house is full of flies. Do you see anything that can be done for the woman or to protect the others? Is there any fund anywhere to help in such a case? The mother is not willing to leave the children. Still she is willing to die whenever God wants to take her. She is in bed now. Yours with thanks for any advice you may be able to give."

LOCAL WIRELESS STATION RECEIVED COAST MESSAGE

The wireless amateur operators of the United States started a relay message Friday night at 10 o'clock from Davenport, Iowa. It was relayed by various stations thruout the country from coast to coast and from the gulf to Canada. The purpose of the message was to get the amateurs more interested in the work, and also show that the amateurs could be depended upon to do their part in the occasion of any great national crisis.

The local station, 9 Y. H., located at the Woman's college caught the message as it was sent from the Illinois Watch company station in Springfield. The stations that received the message Friday evening will relay it Saturday evening. The message Friday night follows:

"President Wilson neither seeks the favor nor fears the displeasure of that small alien element amongst us which puts loyalty to a foreign people before loyalty to the United States."

There will be several more messages relayed during the winter months.

FASTEST AUTO RACE EXPECTED

New York, Oct. 27.—The fastest and closest automobile race ever held is expected to develop at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway tomorrow when the leading drivers in the game will meet in a one hundred mile contest for the American championship. At present it looks as if Johnny Aitken, winner of the last Astor Cup race, and Dario Resta have an edge on their competitors and they will probably fight it out for first place. Both will drive cars that are capable of turning laps at a speed of more than one hundred and ten miles an hour, and each driver declares his car is in shape to go the distance of the contest without trouble.

In addition to a $10,000 purse for the leading six cars at the finish, Harry S. Harkness, president of the Speedway and donor of the trophy, has set aside $2,650 to be distributed as prizes for the cars leading at the end of the various laps. Of after ten miles have been run. Of these prizes the driver will take 75 per cent and the mechanic will get 30 per cent.

TUESDAY FINAL DAY FOR REGISTRATION

Men and Women Voters Should See That Names Are On Poll Books.

Next Tuesday, October 31, is the final day for registration for the election of Tuesday, November 7. At the registration day two weeks ago the judges met and entered the names of all voters that they knew upon the books. These poll books are open to the public and can be found hanging from the booths in the various precincts. If the name of a voter is not found there it means that he has not been registered and must go in person next Tuesday, October 31, and see that the judges enroll him or her. There will be such a rush of voters election day that there will be no time for swearing in votes and those who expect to cast a ballot should certainly see to it that they are registered Tuesday unless their names have already been placed upon the books. The polling places of the thirty-one precincts in Morgan county are as follows:

POLAND CHINA HOGS SHOW GOOD RESULTS

Austin Patterson Explains Some Rules Followed on the Daniels-Patterson Farm.

The record of successful farmers in this region will show that the humble hog has had a large share in the elements of profit and the better the breed the greater the financial gain. Among the successful producers of good Poland China hogs in this vicinity are Patterson & Daniels near Ebenezer church and surely they have attained a pleasing degree of success. A Journal reporter had the pleasure of a visit to the farm recently and a conversation with Mr. Patterson, a methodical, careful and successful man in his calling.

The visitor suggested that it had been claimed that careless inbreeding and other mistakes had tended to lessen the size of the breed so popular, making them lighter boned and less vigorous and smaller in size. Mr. Patterson said that it surely could hardly be justly claimed at the present time as he had known of plenty of specimens that tipped the scales at 1,000 pounds which would hardly be called small. He has a two year old boar weighing 600 pounds and a number of other animals from a year up weighing four hundred to six hundred.

In the first place Mr. Patterson takes great care regarding inbreeding and keeps a boar but a short time sending far away for another and so avoiding that error. He has thorbreds and a careful pedigree of each so he knows whereof he speaks.

Some Rules For Breeders.
He has a number of rules he tries to follow and with good results. In the first place a boar should never run with the herd at all. A sow may be let into the lot with him at the suitable time and taken away and kept alone for a day or two after.

He always cultivates the good will of all his hogs and in return they are gentle as kittens and will permit him to handle them at any time. This he regards as a prime factor in hog breeding.

Asked for some records of breeding Mr. Patterson gave some examples. A gilt of twelve months weighed four hundred, had eleven pigs and raised nine; this fall had twelve and raised nine.

One at eighteen months weighed 480, had seven pigs and raised all; at two years had nine and raised eight.

One at eleven months weighed 250, had eight and raised all.

In the spring of 1915 he had seven sows, several of them yearlings, and averaging four hundred, the older ones weighing five hundred each and none of them fat. The seven had 66 pigs and raised most of them. The same lot in the fall had an average of ten and a half pigs and raised nearly all.

He had one sow two years old weighing 500 but she was not prolific only farrowing three or four pigs at a time. Last spring he had, including the one just mentioned, thirteen sows which had 107 pigs. Seven of these were yearlings and they raised most of them.

Some of his best breeding records are: a sow farrowing 16 pigs and raising eleven; one farrowing fifteen and raising eight; one farrowing fourteen away by herself and raising seven; would have done better had they known when she would farrow.

In the matter of feeding Mr. Patterson says he is careful not to pamper his hogs for they go to men who will not do it and the result is bad. For little pigs he places in a separate place with a slit in the fence throw high only they can go some cracked corn and a slop of oil meal and shorts and thus they learn to eat and in ten or twelve weeks wean themselves. His brood sows he feeds principally corn and water with some oats and plenty of grass, preferably clover if possible. Some slop and other feed at times but the mainstay is corn, grass and water.

At farrowing time he is very careful to watch the sows closely. After farrowing he gives nothing for 24 to 36 hours and then begins with small rations of slop and oats with corn slowly added. He keeps salt, charcoal and ashes by them all the time and puts a little copperas in their slop. He sprinkles or sprays with crude oil but doesn't dip.

He has a long shed divided into individual pens for each family, keeps them scrupulously clean and disinfected thoroughly with good, clean beds. He says a lazy man needn't expect to raise hogs successfully for like everything else it takes brains, muscle and plenty of both with untiring industry and when these are combined in the man good results are practically certain.

FROM MR. AND MRS. CORE.

Hassell Hopper has received a card from Mrs. A. B. Core at Quincy saying she had been quite sick, but was improving. During her illness in the hospital both doctor and nurses had been very kind to her and she had only good words to offer regarding her treatment. Mr. Core was pretty much the same. He had missed her very much and had been brought into the hospital to see her.

COMPLETE ORGANIZATION.

PARTITION SUIT IN CIRCUIT COURT

Heirs of Robert Marshall Seek Division of Property.

Judge M. T. Layman, acting in behalf of John W. Marshall et al., has filed a bill asking for partition of certain lands that belonged to Robert Marshall, now deceased. The complainants are John W. Marshall, Alexander W. Marshall, Robert B. Marshall, W. Gordon Marshall, Julian E. Marshall, Ray H. Marshall, Mary F. Killam and Florence A. Marshall.

It is set forth that Mr. Marshall died November 23, 1904, leaving his wife, the complainants mentioned and Georgianna Marshall Baker, as Marshall, his sons and daughters and only heirs at law. The land owned was part of the west half of the southeast quarter of section 14-15-11. By the will of Mr. Marshall the land was left to his wife for life and at her death to go to the children in equal parts. Mrs. Margaret Marshall, widow of Robert Marshall, died in August, 1915, and had been preceded in death by her daughter, Mrs. Georgianna Marshall Baker. Several of the complainants in the bill have previously mortgaged their interests and because of all the facts and conditions it is set forth that a partition of the property will be in the interest of all.

WORK MOVES SMOOTHLY
AT THE MORTON SCHOOL

Miss Kepler is Having Successful
Year—List of the Pupils.

If you will travel east on the Morton road and past some six miles from town just before you reach the place so long occupied by Judge George W. Moore, you will come to a modest seat of learning, Prairie College. It is a bit pretentious inasmuch as there is no list of college officials, the whole corps of instructors usually in a college being comprised of one person, Miss Nelle M. Cuddy, who is certainly wide awake and up to her duty every time.

Her list of pupils is not as large as will be found in some schools but it will be remembered that in one of Aesop's fables a she lion was reproached for bringing forth but one cub at a time and she is reported as saying, "One but a lion."

So it is with Prairie College; the list of young knowledge seekers is not so large but the quality is fine.

The teacher has her young charges well in hand and the order during the visit of the writer was good. The young people evidently were bent on getting all they could of the talk given them and were polite and courteous.

The directors of this school, Messrs Fred Haggen, George Holley and Robert Hamilton, deserve credit for the things they have done. From over the teacher's desk a portrait of Abraham Lincoln is suspended, there is a small library and a fairly good equipment of maps and charts.

The building and plant will come well to the forefront when it comes to appliances and conditions. The lot is large and there is a good supply of fine trees, those in front being soft maples which will probably some day give way to maple or elm. The room is heated by a furnace with a cemented basement and coal cellar.

The school house faces the south and on the west side the windows nearly occupy the whole side of the house according to law while on the east the windows have been partially screened also according to law.

The out buildings and well are also all right and while the visitor was there he saw M. L. Hult and two other gentlemen erecting a combination shed for the benefit of horses or ponies ridden to the school.

The building is in good shape and while the seats looked all right to the reported teacher said others had been ordered to replace them but there was a hitch lest they fail to comply with the law and they have not been put in place.

The school as a whole is one of which all interested may be proud and the directors may congratulate themselves regarding the work they have done. The pupils are:

Girls—Martha Holley, Katherine Magill, Lenore Pearson, Florence Rose, Mildred Devine, Goldie Lindsey, Amy Smith, Elizabeth Holley, Bonnie Toler, Fionnie Toler and Carrie Bowers.

Boys—Harold Pearson, Glenard Whittaker, Richard Arnold, Troy Luster, Malcolm Hulett, Elliott Arnold, Raymond Tholen, William Laurent, Elwood Hagen, James Luster, Robert Luster, Leavitt Arnold, Orin Rose, Washington Hagen, William Hancock and Fred Bowers.

HIGH PRICES IN '77.

That high prices have been troublesome in other days besides the present is evident from some flour quotations dated April, 1877 and furnished the Journal by T. F. Douglass, 1032 South Main street, who at that time was farming east of the city. On April 15, Mr. Douglass paid $2.25 for fifty pounds of flour at the Crider mill and an April 21 $8.00 for 200 pounds and in May $2.50 for fifty pounds. June 13 Mr. Douglass paid but $4.50 for 200 pounds and afterward flour dropped to $7.50 per barrel.

LINCOLN STEFFENS TO COME TUESDAY

Well Known Author Will Appear
Under Auspices of Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Lincoln Steffens will speak under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce at the Central Christian church on Tuesday, October 31st.

The ladies of the church will serve supper at 6:30 and Mr. Steffens's address will follow.

Lincoln Steffens will speak on Mexico in terms of the United States. He has spent most of the last two winters in Mexico, livink at Vera Cruz and Mexico City among the Americans and the Mexicans, hearing both sides; and he travelled for three months with Carranza and the government on wheels, when they were going all over the country. No man has had a better chance to see the situation as it is, but he "saw the United States first." He went to Mexico after many years of study of American government, business and politics in American cities and states and he says that such understanding of our conditions at home gave him the key to Mexico, before and during the revolution there, but he does not try to impose his views of Mexico upon anybody. He tells a story; the story of the clumsy, violent often corrupt, but fundamentally earnest attempt of the Mexican people to solve their problem, which is, at bottom, our problem; the problem of social living. And keeping our own story in mind, he makes a comparison which is said to make clearer both the Mexican and American efforts toward better state of being.

The lectures gives a brief, but distinct picture of the Diaz government, a dramatic, inside narrative of the outbreak of the revolt; the comic-tragic course of the revolution; the incompetence, corruption and the high purposes of the revolutionary leaders; and the dull, but simple hopes of the people. What the Mexicans have done and what they propose to do; the opposition both from within and from without to their plans, and the chances of success—there are all indicated. Most of the questions asked today in the United States about Mexico are answered, but those that are not may be asked of the speaker who, after he has told his story, will entertain and try to meet inquiries from the audience.

In brief, Mr. Steffens intends to furnish facts to help his hearers form their own conclusions about a very acute situation which really need to be understood.

The lecture Tuesday evening is an exceptional opportunity for the people of Jacksonville to hear the facts about Mexico from a man with first hand information. A large attendance of ladies is expected.

Arthur D. Burbank Makes Statement About Workers Toward Their Leaders.

Arthur D. Burbank, chairman of the legislative board of the brotherhood of railway trainmen in Illinois, declares that the members of the brotherhood cannot be delivered to President Wilson by their national officers. Mr. Burbank has duties which require him to visit various lodges of his organization frequently and he declares that the sentiment for Hughes has grown strongly as the men have come into a realization of what the Adamson law really means. Mr. Burbank in his statement says:

"The sentiment in favor of Wilson is disappearing," said Mr. Burbank, "and the evident attempt of the grand lodge officers to influence the membership is reacting. The railroad men as a class are pretty independent in politics and they do not want their officers to tell them how they should vote. The men who have always been Democrats are shouting a little louder than usual in the campaign, but the men who have always been Republicans have not changed and are going to vote for Hughes."

"As to the Adamson law, few of our members understand it and all are more or less suspicious of it. Many feel that in departing from the established custom of joint conferences and direct wage adjustments the brotherhoods have made a great mistake. I have found many of our members who are more ready to criticize than to praise our national officers for dragging them into the political arena. The brotherhoods have made substantial progress in the last ten years thru their economic forces and the members feel that all that work has been lost and that wages are now merely political issues."

"In the last two weeks I have noticed a decided change in sentiment, especially in Illinois. Our members have not forgotten the conditions which prevailed two years ago when train crews were laid off by hundreds and thousands. They understand that the present prosperity is temporary, due entirely to the European war and they want to see their bread and butter placed on a firmer foundation. They are afraid that the re-election of Wilson and a Democratic congress will result in a return to the deplorable conditions of two years ago before the war gave a temporary stimulus to industry."

"A recent statement issued by the president of one of the brotherhoods to the effect that men who do not support Wilson are to be put in the class with men who would stand by the railroads in a strike has caused a tremendous revulsion of feeling and caused thousands who were wavering to come out openly for Hughes. Any union man with spirit will resent such a slur. It is the first time that our national officers have attempted to tell us how we must vote, and there are thousands like myself who will not stand for such dictation. I am fully convinced that the sentiment among the railroad men for Hughes is growing stronger every day, and when the ballots are counted our national officers will find out that their political activities have been resented by the rank and file."

Jacksonville Chapter, No. 3 R. A. M., will hold a special convocation Monday evening at 6 o'clock for work in M. M. Supper at 6 o'clock. Visiting companions welcome.

Terrible State of Weakness Experienced By Ipswich Lady. Cardui Made Her Strong.

Ipswich, S. D.—Mrs. Henry Royle, of this place, says: "I suffered for nearly 10 years, with womanly trouble. Nothing seemed to help me until I took Cardui, the woman's tonic. It made me well and strong. Before I commenced to take Cardui, I could not stand on my feet."

I was so weak, I could not cut a slice of bread. Now, I can stand all day, and can do most of my work. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. I have been feeling fine ever since I began to take it. Cardui was recommended to me by a friend, and I will gladly tell my friends of it."

If Cardui will relieve and cure such a stubborn and long-standing trouble as that of Mrs. Royle, then it is only reasonable to believe it will quickly and surely help you, too.

Cardui is the ideal general tonic for women. It has been found to improve the appetite and build up the entire womanly constitution. You can always depend on Cardui, for it has helped more than a million weak women in the past 50 years, who suffered from troubles so common to their sex. Try Cardui. It will help you.

PASTORAL LETTER OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH WAS READ AT THE FINAL SESSION

Is Message of the 108 Bishops of the Church To Its Communicants—Warns Americans Against Dangers of Present Day Life

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27.—Warning Americans against "the danger of race antipathy flaming into hatred" and against "unconsecrated prosperity which is bound to cause manhood to decay" the pastoral letter of the Protestant Episcopal church was read at the final joint session of the triennial convention here today.

The letter is the message of the 108 bishops of the church to its communicants and under the church law, will be read in every Episcopal church in the country.

"Whatever dangers may lie lurking beyond our western horizon" it asserted, "can surely be averted by a spirit of justice which has not always prevailed in our dealings with the orient."

Members of the church were admonished to "sanctify their wealth by offering freely of their substance to God's cause," it began, added that "the wounds of Armenia, Poland and Belgium still lie gaping to the sky and offer their dumb appeal to God and man."

The letter in part follows: "America is involved today in world-wide confusion which finds its most acute expression in the battlefields of Europe. No self isolation on our part is possible. The fortunes of the nations are interwoven as the threads of a tapestry."

"Interest can never again be sectional. The world is henceforth one, for the time being in a disturbed and suffering unity in days to come in a unity where order and health will reign."

"Political expediency may in war time require neutrality of the state, but it cannot hold in leash the sympathies of the individual citizen. A man cannot be passionless and retain his manhood."

"The fact that our nation is not at war affords no grounds for smugness."

Nation is Not at Peace

"The nation that in some quarters, for the sake of gain, still changes to the wheels of industry, the bodies and souls of her little children, that allows human life to be sacrificed to the inventions of speed and production from lack of costly safeguards, that heeds but listlessly the cry of the poor and oppressed, is not at peace even tho she be not at war. If presently we aspire to act as peacemaker in behalf of the warring nations, let our aspirations be tempered by the reflection that we are tainted with the common disease of which the eruption of war is a symptom, not a cause. God hates a Godless and empty peace as much as he hates an unrighteous war."

"Let it be sadly said that in proportion to her swollen wealth, America's contribution to the innocent sufferers in Europe is the merest pittance."

Must Pay the Penalty

"If America comes out of the world's disorder richer in purse and poorer in manhood, she will bring upon herself the penalty of a debased life or even of losing her very soul."

"No nation, least of all so vast and diversified as ours is justified in trusting to chance for the creation of her national character. She must expect of everyone of her citizens some true form of national service, rendered according to the capacity of each, national preparedness is a clear duty. If this service assumes the form of military defense such can easily become a menace and will surely fall short of pacific effect, unless all the productive forces of manhood are at the same moment shaped into social order. The only thoro preparedness is that exemplified by Christ, preparedness of character based upon life with God. * * *

Learn From Each Other

"The nations now at war have as much to teach us as we have to teach them. They rebuke our worship of comfort and money by the daily offering, upon a reckoning altar of life and treasure; they declare to us that intoxicating liquor which is so freely and carelessly drunk in our land is a national menace to be dispensed with at the cost of lowered revenue but with the gain of heightened virility; they teach us that food is the staff of property; they rebuke our spiritual poverty by the splendor of their spiritual eagerness which, out of their tragedy, brings new visions from God and breeds new virtues in men; they shame our self-indulgence by a degree of self-sacrifice that is royal."

"Whatever apology made, for the world confusion, it is none the less an outcome and a revelation of unchristian principles which have dominated the life of western Christendom and of which both the church and the nations have need to repent."

"Greed of possessions, of honor, of pleasure, have literally dethroned God from his supreme place among men. The sole cure is to exalt God."

"Thus far the church has been only strong enough to see and covet, not strong enough to consummate, her ideal. Her own disunion diminishes her hopes and hinders her advantages. A divided church is powerless to create an undivided world."

"We close our words of counsel and exhortation with our faces toward the dawn. History makes plain to us that man's extremity is God's opportunity."

The reading of the letter, by the Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, bishop of the Philippines was attended with ecclesiastical ceremonies, the bishops of the church making their way in vested procession, to the chancellor of St. Peter's church in which members of the house of deputies had gathered.

Sent Back to Commission

All the parts of the report of the joint commission on the revision and enrichment of the prayer book which had not been discussed during the convention in both houses of the convention today were sent back to the commission to be reported again at the next convention.

The house of bishops notified the house of deputies at the final session that it agreed with the lower house in practically all of the changes adopted in the morning and evening prayer service and in the psalter. Among these was the proposal to eliminate from the prayer of the president a plea for his long life and prosperity.

The house of bishops with the concurrence of the lower house today also recommended a number of special prayers, which had been suggested for the enrichment. These included those proposed for state's legislatures, for courts of justice, for social service and for our country. They will be re-reported at the next convention, it being asserted that in their present form they are not properly liturgical.

The omission on the book of common prayer, reported that it was inexpedient at this time to consider a proposal to amend the prayer book title page by substituting the words "of the holy Catholic church" for the words "of the church."

FIGURES SHOW GREAT INCREASE IN PRICES

LIVING COST SHOWN TO HAVE ADVANCED OVER 50 PER CENT

Statistics Compiled by Chicago Newspaper Are Made Public—Staples Have Increased in Price More Than Luxuries.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The cost of feeding a family in Chicago has increased just 54 1-2 per cent within the last year, according to figures compiled by a local newspaper and made public today. Specifically, to provide the same family with the same quality and quantity of food costs more by more than one-half than was the cost a year ago.

In reaching these conclusions the case of the family of a tailor was taken. It cost him just $19.45 to feed his family of himself, his wife and eight children last week, ending Oct. 21. For the same week in 1915 it cost him $12.69 to feed his family.

Grocers here today predicted further advances in the cost of food products to consumers. The staple canned goods are going up fifty per cent, some retail dealers assert.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—One of the largest bakeries in the city announced today that beginning Oct. 31 five cent loaves of bread will be advanced to six cents and ten cent loaves to twelve cents.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27.—Several large retailers have announced that on next Wednesday the price of milk will be advanced to eleven cents a quart and six cents a pint.

Des Moines, Iowa., Oct. 27.—Officers of commercial organizations, wholesale dealers and retail merchants today asserted that the cost of living thruout this state has increased about half the percentage reported from Chicago as the result of the investigation of the cost of living by a Chicago newspaper. It was admitted that the cost of living has increased in some cases to almost double what it was five years ago and that staples have been increased in price more than luxuries.

It was asserted by one dealer that taking the state as a whole and figuring on the basis of all necessities, the increase in the cost of living would average about 15 per cent.

Minneapolis, Oct. 27.—Best grades of flour increased in price 20 cents a barrel shortly before the close of the grain market today.

JAPAN DESIRES PEACE WITH UNITED STATES

Judge Gary States There is No Doubt of Attitude of People—China's Great Need is Railroads—Would Be Mistake to Give Up Philippines

St. Louis, Missouri, October 27.—The leading men of Japan are anxious for permanent peaceable and friendly relations with the United States, Elbert H. Gary, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, declared here today in an address at the semi-annual meeting of the organization. Mr. Gary's talk was given in response to a request from the institute's directors that he discuss his summer trip to the Orient, where he visited the Philippines, China and Japan.

"For some time there have been suggestions," he said, "in public and in private, in the United States and in Japan as well, that, for numerous reasons not necessary to recall, there was possibility, if not likelihood, of active hostility between the two countries. Whenever either government has decided to provide an additional warship some one in the other country has been prompt in charging that this meant preparation for war between these two nations."

"I said repeatedly on my own responsibility, making no claim except that I believe I could accurately represent public sentiment that a large majority of the people of the United States did not desire, but would deplore and stubbornly oppose, war with Japan, except in self defense, and that they were of the opinion there is not now nor will be any cause for serious trouble or disagreement; that there need be no conflict of opinion which could not be finally and satisfactorily settled by mutual negotiation and consideration I also expressed the belief that our governmental administration is and would be inclined toward this most desirable exercise of authority. To all this I am sure this large company of representative business men will heartily subscribe. I would repeat and emphasize the sentiments thus expressed."

Desire Peace

"And now, gentlemen, I am here to say to you in words just as emphatic and in a belief no less absolute that the leading and controlling men of Japan are equally anxious to have a continuance, permanently of the peaceable and friendly relations now existing between these two countries. That there may be exceptions may go without saying; it would be usual and need excite no surprise nor fear if such is the fact. Still I have no positive information on which to base this conjecture. I had good opportunity to ascertain the real situation, tho my visit to Japan was comparatively short."

"The most prominent and influential men in Japan are outspoken in their profession of friendship toward the United States."

Mr. Gary said that, basing his opinion upon inquiry and study, he has concluded that Japan desires that China shall become "firmly established as a sound, peaceful, progressive, prosperous and rich government with free and open seaports," with all outside countries on a just and profitable basis.

Discussing conditions in China, he described the government there as "an honest, unselfish, capable, industrious and harmonious organization" which realized that the country has not kept pace with others in the progressive march of nations and which was seeking a solution of China's problems.

China Needs Railroads

One of the things chiefly needed by China now, Mr. Gary declared, is first class railroads, and in this connection he said it was to be earnestly hoped that American capitalists would participate in further loans which would permit rapid extension of railway lines. Mr. Gary believed that China was desirous of maintaining cordial relations with American business concerns and that she "wishes the open door policy to prevail."

"Here," he said, "is a great field for operation on the part of American business men which can be cultivated without injury or objection on the part of other nations and with decided benefit to China herself. I could wish that in some respects the conditions in the United States which now exist, resulting, I think, from political agitation, might be modified."

It would be a grave mistake, the speaker declared, for the United States to give up the Philippines.

Discussing business conditions, Mr. Gary urged exercise of caution and preparedness for any "unfavorable changes." He said he believed if the present "unprotective tariff remained unchanged there would be competition from foreign sources after the war which would adversely and perhaps disastrously, affect American industry and American labor."

ILLINOIS COLLEGE DEFEATS NORMAL

CAPTURES GRIDIRON CONTEST BY SCORE OF 14 TO 3.

Coach Wann and Millikin Team Witness Game On Local Field—E. C. Eleven Displays Poor Form—No Scoring in Last Half.

With Coach Wann and the entire Millikin football team watching the game Illinois College played one of the worst games in her history against Illinois Normal on Illinois field Friday afternoon. The final score was 14 to 3, Normal scoring her points by a beautiful place kick by Hanson from the 40 yard line. Illinois worked a shift through the entire game. It was good for gains, but at critical moments Normal held for downs or forced Illinois to kick. Most of Illinois' passes went wrong and the line did not hold like it is capable of holding. There is one thing sure and that is that Harmon's team did not show Millikin any intricate football yesterday.

Normal, as Coach Harmon predicted, used the spread formation almost during the entire game. They used it for forward passes and for line plays. Strange to say, it seemed to fool the Illinois line and Normal frequently made good gains. Wilson, Spink, Whisler, Pierce and Jones were the chief ground gainers for Illinois. Wilson played a wonderful game and his defensive playing was particularly brilliant, as he did some of the best tackling ever seen on Illinois field. For Normal, D. Courtright, Hanson, Jones and Westhoff played excellent football. Between halves to music by the Illinois band the students formed in line for a snake dance around the field and finally lined up facing the flagstaff. Miss Ruth Weyand ran up the championship pennant given by Postmaster R. I. Dunlap, a former alumnus. The students sang the Illinois song, while the pennant was raised.

the line and could not gain. Wilson intercepted a forward pass on Illinois' 30-yard line. Spink fumbled on the next play and Normal recovered. Normal made first down on two line plays and then Whisler intercepted a forward pass on Illinois' 12-yard line. Illinois failed to gain on two line plays and punted to Normal in the center of the field. Normal made five yards thru the line and then worked a forward pass for 15 yards. After trying the line, Normal tried a drop kick, which failed and the ball was put into play by Illinois on her 20-yard line. Illinois made first down on three plays. Spink made five yards thru the line and Wilson skirted the end for 15 yards. The quarter ended with the ball in Illinois' possession. Wilson ran around Normal's left end for 35 yards. Whisler and Spink each gained five yards. Illinois worked the ball to Normal's 10-yard line, where they were held for downs.

Normal immediately kicked to Whisler in the center of the field. Illinois made first down on two plays. A forward pass netted five yards and then Wilson went around left end for 15 yards. Illinois lost two yards on an end around play. Wilson passed to Whisler, who was downed on Normal's 6-yard line. Spink hit the line for four yards and Whisler went over for a touchdown and Frisbie kicked goal. Score: Illinois 14, Normal 0.

Illinois kicked to Normal on the 15-yard line and the ball was carried back to the 40-yard line. Normal made first down on line plays and then punted to Wilson, who carried the ball back to the 45-yard line. Illinois gained seven yards thru the line and then Normal intercepted a forward pass in the center of the field. Normal made first down in four tries. Normal then played hard football and repeated for another down. After several tries at the line without gain, Hanson dropped back to the 40-yard line and put a place kick between the goal posts for three points. The half closed with the ball in Illinois' possession in the center of the field.

Both teams played hard football in the last two quarters, but neither was able to gain consistently. The ball went over frequently on downs and both teams were forced to kick. In the fourth quarter time was taken out repeatedly for Normal and they were penalized two yards once by the referee. Illinois did not claim the other penalties. The line-up: Illinois. Normal. Grubb. Left-end. Mitchell. Left-tackle. Zink. Left-guard. Valentine. Right-guard. Sooy. Right-tackle. Conklin. Right-end. Frisbie (Capt.). Jones (Capt.). Wilson. Quarterback. Whisler. Westhoff.

MILLIKIN HAS HARD GAME WITH LOMBARD

Decatur School Slated for Defeat According to Dope From Galesburg—Contest Expected to Be Close.

The Galesburg Evening Mail has the following to say of the game between Lombard and Millikin at Galesburg this afternoon: Coach "Sammy" Gross' team will go out on Lombard field next Saturday afternoon with blood in their eyes. They are going to get Millikin. The team has been working time and a half both on their defense and offense, and they have some surprises cooked up to serve to the Decaturites when they trot on Saturday. Decatur's college team comes here full of stars, everyone a dangerous man. The man who is feared by every team is Catlin, one of the Millikin linemen, who has won fame via the air route. It is reputed that he can place a kick between the bars anywhere within the fifty yard line. He can operate in any kind of weather, for last Saturday, with a muddy and slippery ball he managed the kicking end of a 45-yard place kick against Bradley.

McWhorter, who fills the fullback position for the Millikin, team is a bruising demon and is always a reliable ground gainer. He, with Johnson at the quarterback position, make a speedy duo that is to be feared. Lombard's sole hope of scoring by the air route lies in Seely, who is as efficient in drop kicking as Catlin is in place kicking. That the game may result in a kicking duel between Seely and Catlin is the opinion of some sport followers. It is doubtful if the line plunging tactics used by Lombard in the Wesleyan game can be used in this game, for the Lombard line is outweighed several pounds.

Regardless of the weather Lombard will present a good playing surface for the heavy grass will give plenty of opportunity for the speedy backfields of both teams to operate. Lombarders are not fully avenged for the defeat at the hands of Illinois two weeks ago, and they mean to work out on Millikin for criticism have doped Millikin to clean up on Illinois.

The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock. FOOTBALL RESULTS At Pontiac—Pontiac High 33; Gibson City 7. At Fairbury—Fairbury 20; Eureka High 7. St. Thomas 27, Marquette 6. At Eureka—Eureka 17, William and Vashti 15. Lake Forest Academy 7, Evans-ton Academy 6.

GRIDIRON CONTESTS SCHEDULED TODAY

MINNESOTA WILL FACE STRONG IOWA TEAM.

Clash Between Chicago and Wisconsin Another Important Game—Illinois University Will meet Purdue—Northwestern and Drake Meet at Evanston.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Geared up for speed and high scoring power, the University of Minnesota eleven will swing into action tomorrow in its first game of the "Big Nine" championship football race. The strong Iowa team will be Minnesota's opponent.

This game and the clash between Chicago and Wisconsin are the most important contests involving Western Conference honors on tomorrow's schedule. Neither Minnesota nor Wisconsin has been beaten this season and each is making a strong bid for the "Big Nine" title. The games are expected to bring out the relative strength of the rival contenders.

Two inter-sectional battles also will be decided in the west tomorrow, Indiana meeting the strong Tufts eleven at Indianapolis, and Michigan taking on Syracuse at Ann Arbor. Indiana, although beaten by Chicago in its first Western Conference game, expects to hold Tufts to a low and close score. As Tufts trounced Harvard 7 to 3 and held Princeton to a 3 to 0 score, indications are that Indiana will have to play a remarkably improved game over the brand of football it displayed against Chicago or suffer defeat.

Michigan's players came out of the bruising battle with the Michigan Aggies in good condition and expect to win handsily over Syracuse, which was downed a week ago by Pittsburgh.

Minnesota's high powered eleven is generally conceded a victory over Iowa. The Gophers have piled up 169 points in their last three games as against a total of fourteen points scored by their opponents. Critics who have seen the team in action are unanimous in their opinion that it ought to run away with the "Big Nine" honors. The eleven is made up of heavy, fast players—some of the best ever developed at Minnesota.

Chicago will make a desperate stand against Wisconsin, as the Maroons, beaten a week ago by Northwestern, are determined to re-establish themselves in the conference race. Coach Stag has drilled his players with dogged determination and has tried hard to instill a fighting spirit in them.

Wisconsin, however, is believed to have a too powerful attack for Chicago, as the team has rolled up big scores in its early season contests. The Cardinals' first line players are reported as being only slightly stronger than the second and third reserves men.

Illinois must defeat Purdue tomorrow to get into a possible tie for the conference title. Coach Zuppke's players are not discouraged over the setback given them by Ohio State a week ago and expect to get revenge at the expense of the Boilermakers, who were humbled by Iowa last Saturday.

Northwestern, which triumphed over Chicago a week ago for the first time in fifteen years, will face Drake University's team at Evanston. The Purple players, speedy and masters of the game, expect a victory over the Des Moines men, despite the latter's record in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Games in the East. New York, Oct. 27.—The first month of eastern varsity football will end tomorrow with the playing of several games that will have an important bearing upon the final ranking of the elevens for the 1916 season.

In several cases the larger institutions have the memory of previous defeats to efface, but the caliber of their opponents makes this a difficult feat and it may develop that there are to be repetitions of the victories of the smaller college teams such as marked the play of a year ago. The contest between Cornell and Harvard, the feature game of the day, can hardly be placed in this category.

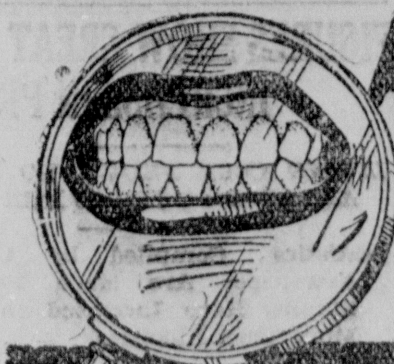

Princeton, Yale and Pennsylvania face formidable foes, Dartmouth, although defeated by Georgetown a week ago, is a powerful combination likely to play harder with the memory of that upset fresh in mind. Coach "Spedy" Rush of Princeton is fully confident of the Hanover team's ability, but with the Harvard and Yale games a few weeks away the Tigers can not afford to expose the full measure of their offense.

Pennsylvania, with one defeat already marked against her, faces a most formidable adversary in the University of Pittsburgh. Yale hopes to check the victorious career of Washington and Jefferson at New Haven, where, for the last two seasons, the visitors from Pennsylvania have triumphed over the Blue. The invaders have been playing a remarkable offensive and defensive game and will undoubtedly give the Yale eleven a terrific battle.

The day will also be marked by two inter-sectional games of more than ordinary importance. In both cases eastern teams will journey to the middle west to meet opponents of that section. The heavy Syracuse combination will play Michigan at Ann Arbor and, with several of the best players on the side lines, Michigan, if Maubetsch and Sparks are in scoring form, should hold the edge over the Orange. The other game will bring together Tufts, the conquerors of Harvard and Indiana. In this contest the eastern eleven appears to have the advantage.

Missouri Valley Games. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—Football games scheduled for the teams of the Missouri Valley Conference tomorrow present what might be termed a well balanced bill. While the Jayhawkers of Kansas do battle in their annual rivalry against the Kansas Aggies, at Lawrence, Missouri will meet Oklahoma at Norman, the Drake bulldogs will journey to Evanston to engage Northwestern in an inter-sectional game with a big nine team. Nebraska, Ames and Washington have games that should prove to be only of practice caliber.

A Discovery about your TEETH

Tonight, if you will closely examine your teeth after brushing them, you will make a surprising discovery. Though you have been cleaning your teeth regularly, you will find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. Your dentifrice has not been REALLY CLEANING!

Loss of teeth is usually due to one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or Decay—both of which ordinarily develop only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present. CLEAN your teeth—REALLY CLEAN them! Senreco, a dental specialist's formula will do it. Senreco embodies specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect your self against Pyorrhea and decay. DUNN'S REVIEW

New York, Oct. 27.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:
"Disproportion between demand and supply is more pronounced than at any previous time and the prices continue to rise. Widely divergent lines exhibited steadily increasing strength and the most commodities are already at an extreme position there is no sign that the crest has yet been reached. In steel and iron, in textiles and in other branches the eagerness of buyers is regarded as foreshadowing still further advances, the growing scarcity of materials and products impelling urgent efforts to cover far distant requirements.
Evidence of expansion is visible on every hand but many manufacturers and merchants, with commendable judgment and prudence, endeavor to repress demand rather than encourage it and credits are closely scanned.
"Obligations generally, however, are met with greater promptness and preliminary returns of October failures indicate the smallest mortality for the period since 1902 in spite of increase in new enterprises."

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken
It promptly opens your clogged-up

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blow-gives such prompt relief as "Pape's without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no

WHEAT MARKET EXCELS
ALL HIGH PRICE RECORDS
Chance of Extraordinary Squeeze in December Option Sends Prices Upward—No. 2 Yellow Corn Sells at $1.10.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—In a surprising burst of strength today the wheat market excelled all recent high price records. Traders were largely influenced by assertions that exporters and foreign governments had obtained ownership of the bulk of deliveries here until January 1st. Prices closed buoyant at the topmost point of the session, December at $1.86 to $1.86% and May at $1.84 to 1.84%, with the market as a whole
3c to 5% above yesterday's finish.
Other net gains were:
Corn 1% to 1%, oats 1% to 1%
and active deliveries of provisions 10c to 6c.

The chief impetus to buy at first from news that the rains yesterday in Argentina had been slight and entirely too late to remedy the damage to the crop. Continued stormy weather in Canada tended further to stimulate demand. On the other hand, offerings, proved unusually scarce.
It was not, however, until attention was directed to the chance of an extraordinary squeeze in the December option that prices shot upward almost unchecked. When the closing gong cleared the pit the ascent was still in progress and showed in some cases at the last a jump of 8% from the low point of yesterday.

Mr. Wilson as President

(Chicago Daily News.)

When the question of national leadership came before the country four years ago the Daily News strongly advised the Democratic party to make Woodrow Wilson its candidate for president. The arguments persistently advanced on his behalf by this newspaper are known to have contributed in no inconsiderable degree to Mr. Wilson's nomination by the Baltimore convention. In the succeeding campaign the Daily News heartily supported Mr. Wilson's candidacy. Many of his actions as president have received its full approval. However, certain characteristics of this remarkable chief executive of the nation, characteristics clearly revealed by his official course, had led him into actions that appear to the Daily News to be subversive of popular government and even of the foundations of public order and safety. Therefore it believes that the interests of the republic require the retirement of Mr. Wilson from the presidency at the end of his present term of office.

Mr. Wilson is a scholarly egoist who measures all things by personal standards which are subject to no modifications other than those resulting from his confirmed policy of opportunism. "Do the easiest thing and make a virtue of it," might be the accepted motto of this eminently plausible president. Having no real advisers and no cabinet except in name—this was made clear by the resignation of Secretary Garrison—he has felt free to follow his own inclinations at all times. His inclinations have been right in many instances, and he has accomplished much that should prove of lasting value to the nation. Blessed with a safe party majority in each house of congress throughout the whole period of his administration, and having not an atom of that desirable passion for wise economy which characterized another Democratic president, Grover Cleveland, he has found ways of keeping under his hand a ready instrument for the enactment of such measures as he chose to approve, and of slaying measures that were not to his liking. In short, to an extraordinary degree he has had his way in legislative affairs.

Material success rewards his administration in large part because the great war which has deluged Europe with blood has deluged the United States with prosperity. The Daily News has approved those actions of the president's that tended to uphold against the ruthlessness of war the rights of neutrals and other non-combatants, though many voices now raised for Mr. Wilson were raised not so long ago in shrieks of alarm, voices that prophesied red ruin as a sure result of the president's display of firmness. In the opinion of the Daily News the president in honor and safety could not have done less than he did in dealing with the submarine and other questions, whereas considerations of honor and safety might well have caused him to do more than he did. Because of unprecedented conditions in the foreign field, the president has accomplished no remarkable feat in keeping the nation out of war, though the fact that we are not now at war is the chief boast of his supporters. Yet for more than two years there has been nobody anywhere who could have been persuaded to go to war with us, nearly all the world's fighting men being locked in a deadly struggle amid the trenches of Europe. The administration's Mexican policy, though it has given us two little inglorious wars, interminable muddlement and serious loss of prestige, has reflected the president's wise determination not to yield an inch to the arrogant demands of the annexationists. It has shed upon the nation no luster save that resulting from the rejection of the elemental sin of blind covetousness.

It was in his method of dealing with the strike threat of the railroad brotherhoods that President Wilson most clearly disclosed his policy of government. That perilous policy of following the line of least resistance is shown here in its perfection. Here also is shown the destructiveness of the form of statesmanship which deals with a crisis by postponing the day of settlement and at the same time, by weakening established safeguards, augmenting the elements of danger contained in it. Confronted by the fact that leaders of certain railroad employees had refused to arbitrate the question of higher wages and had rejected the proffered help of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, President Wilson chose to assume that the question involved was that of the establishment of the eight hour day, though the eight hour day in reality had nothing to do with it. He chose to assume also, without making an effort to prevent that threatened outcome, that a nationwide strike tying up railroad transportation from coast to coast would result speedily unless he secured by law within a few hours a severe remedy to the liking of the men who had engineered the strike order. Instead of saying to those men, "This nation will not be coerced into passing a law increasing your wages without investigation," he hastened to reward them for first refusing arbitration and then setting their scanty time limit of hours in which congress might establish by law their minimum demand of a 25 per cent increase in wages, notoriously misbranded by the president the eight hour day. The nation's chief executive, rejecting all pleas to the contrary, thrust aside the principle of arbitration, thrust aside all questions of right and wrong and yielded to a barefaced holdup in derogation of justice and orderly government. To give his action a shadowy excuse, he demanded one thing while calling it another thing. A stamped concrete carried out his orders in jig time.

Here was a shameless, a destructive surrender to a threat of force made with a deliberate purpose by an organized minority. On the part of the president it was at once a display of timidity and craft. It established a precedent both dangerous and humiliating. Throughout the amazing transaction the larger interests of the great unorganized American public counted for nothing. The facts, known and unknown, were ignored. The president employed an easy method of projecting a present difficulty into the future, and of gaining profitable friendships for himself while sowing a crop of dragon's teeth for his country, whose interests he was set to guard. This appalling display of unscrupulousness illuminates like a searchlight the character and the thought processes of the chief magistrate of the nation. The American people should take warning from the painful exposure.

In the opinion of the Daily News the safety of the nation and the integrity of its institutions can not wisely be entrusted to President Wilson for another term.

Splendid refreshments were served during the afternoon, appetizing and in abundance, and good enough for the king. Mrs. Hitchens was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Orville Crum, of "Rose of Sharon" and Miss Wilma Crum, of "Old Crum Homestead."

About 4 o'clock Miss Olive Hitchens came in, bringing with her a pretty girl, whom she introduced as Miss Wright, a teacher at Literberry College. An offering was taken and the society dismissed by a short prayer by Mrs. C. G. Cantrell.

THE MYSTERIOUS FOE

A Series of Stories About Some Illinois Men, Women and Children.
Issued by the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis

See the happy youngster! He fits right in with the picture doesn't he?

His name is Jimmie and he is one of about the happiest family groups you ever saw.

Little Jim, when he gets old enough to understand, will be told a very interesting bit of history connected with his own family.

It is so interesting that we are going to tell you about it now.

On the south side of the cottage you will find a sleeping porch. It is all screened in. Every night, warm or cold, stormy or fair, Jimmie and his father and mother and his baby brother, sleep there.

Of course, drop curtains are arranged so that the beds can be protected from a driving rain. But there they sleep, every night. If the temperature begins to flirt with the zero mark, another blanket or two is added.

Jimmie's parents didn't always see the value of this sleeping porch. And thereby hangs a tale, as professional story tellers often say.

There was a time not so very long ago when Jimmie's father and mother slept indoors. And more than that, they kept the bedroom windows tightly closed each night.

RETURN FROM AUTO TRIP TO THE SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Went With Springfield Friends to Visit Mrs. Andre at Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Andre have returned from Nashville, Tenn., where they went to visit their daughter, Miss Gladys, a student in the Ward-Belmont college of the metropolis of the state south of Kentucky. The trip was made in the Cadillac 8 car of Mr. and Mrs. F. Buck of Springfield, who took the trip also to visit a daughter they have in the same place. They started the 15th and went first to Indianapolis by the Ocean to Ocean route, and then by the Dixie Highway to the end of their journey. They found good roads in the south. They put up at hotels on the way and had a delightful journey. They passed through Louisville and Bowling Green, Ky., and took in many objects of interest.

Their daughter they found well and doing good work, and, of course, glad indeed to greet her parents, as was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck. At Nashville they went out to the Hermitage, the home of General Andrew Jackson, who once owned 6,000 acres of land in that vicinity. The property is now cared for by a special society of Nashville ladies and is visited by a great many persons. Near the Hermitage is the old cabin in which the illustrious man first saw the light of day and the whole is sacredly cared for.

On the way home they visited the Lincoln birthplace, which is becoming an object of great interest. It is unfortunately fourteen miles from Elizabethtown, the nearest railroad station, but automobiles are ready to convey visitors to the place. A noble and imposing building of granite with massive columns is erected right over the log cabin in which the great emancipator was born. The structure cost $142,000 and has been taken over by the government. The place comprises 130 acres of land, but no improvements or adornments are yet visible, though they may come later. A custodian is in charge and the building itself is cared for all right. It is about a quarter of a mile from the wagon road, but a cement walk leads up to it.

The last place visited was Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, that wonder of wonders. Last March 32,000 persons visited it and it is an object of great interest in the land. The old hotel and all else are unchanged and must remain so till the death of the last heir to the Gant estate. A portion of the cave was visited by the tourists, who returned home after traveling 1510 miles pleasantly and without any serious mishaps.

A portion of the cave was visited by the tourists, who returned home after traveling 1510 miles pleasantly and without any serious mishaps.

It was customary for the family to have each winter about the usual amount of doctors' bills for cold medicine, cough drops, croup and headache remedies.

One spring Jimmie's father noticed that his annual "cold" didn't get any better with the coming of warmer weather.

Folks said he was going to have a "summer cough" and gave him all sorts of advice.

An anti-tuberculosis worker who had met Jimmie's mother in a social way, advised a sleeping porch.

Jimmie's father made fun of the idea at first but at last he agreed to it and the porch was built. It didn't cost much and in fact, Jimmie's father did most of the work himself.

Sleeping practically right out in the open air was a new experience in that family but it happened to be summer time when they started it and it wasn't so bad.

They kept it up when cold weather came and were surprised to find that not only did their coughs and colds fail to appear as usual but the entire family began to have better health the year 'round. Now they wouldn't sleep indoors for the price of a house and lot.

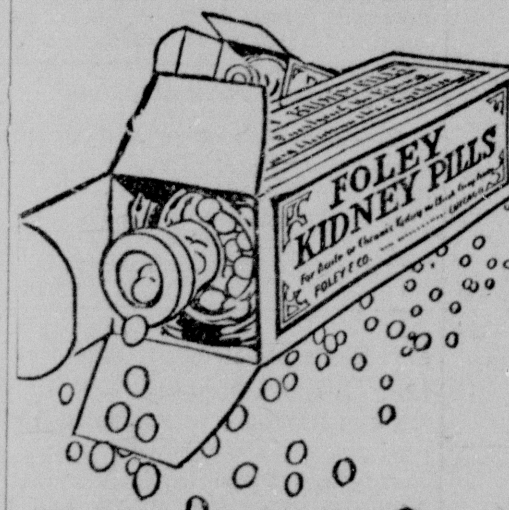

WANT FUNDS TO RELIEVE SUFFERING IN GERMANY
Ambassador Gerard Approves the Thanksgiving Appeal for Relief Money.
New York, Oct. 27.—A Thanksgiving appeal for funds to relieve suffering among the widows and orphans in Germany was issued here today by the American relief committee, backed by the approval of James W. Gerard, United States ambassador to Germany, who expressed the belief that a liberal contribution would do much to make a more friendly feeling between Germany and the United States.

"The money will be sent me thru the United States department," Mr. Gerard said, "and I will distribute it in Germany thru the United States consuls there wherever the need is greatest. I think all persons who are interested not only in helping the real necessities of widows and orphans in Germany, but also in promoting more friendly feelings thruout the world, ought to help in this work."

"In distributing the money I shall be careful to let the German public know from whom it comes. Americans have sent much more money to other nations than to Germany, but I hope the Germans will come to realize that the people of America sympathize with the sufferings and needs of the widows and orphans everywhere and are willing to ameliorate such conditions wherever found."
